All;
As per EPA's request of 8/14/17, NASA provides redline/strikeout comments in the attached draft revised charge questions. NASA thanks EPA for the opportunity to review and provide comments specifically on the draft charge questions. We concur with Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)

Inter-Agency Partners:

Thank you for your review and comment on the draft charge for the next perchlorate peer review. We believe that the input we received from you has helped us to communicate more clearly about

Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)

Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)

Attached is a revised draft charge that responds to the concerns identified in our discussion last Wednesday. In preparing the attached revisions, we tried to better organize the issues and break down complex charge questions into more direct questions. We ask that you review the attached draft charge and provide us with any comments or suggestions by Friday, August 18. Please send comments on the draft charge to myself and Eric Burneson. Please also copy Vlad Dorjets on your comments as well.

After we receive your input our next steps will be as follows:

Dear Interagency Reviewers,

Please find attached the results tables for the modeling. This was one of our requests from the conference call last Tuesday. These tables are from the draft report that EPA will soon release for peer review. Also — we requested more information regarding EPA's timeline. This is EPA's current plan forward:

Eric – thanks for flagging. I thought we had actually put this to bed on our call with Jim on Friday, as I'd stated that we were planning the first call on the charge questions and the second specifically on the modeling. He thought that sounded fine, and in alignment with Jim Kim, which is what he cared about. It looks from the below email like that's not the case. I'll call Jim L. and discuss, and will follow up afterwards. Thanks. Kevin

Hi Jim,

I wanted to provide the information for the October 20th call on the perchlorate BBDR model charge questions.

Conference Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) access code Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP)

Interagency comments on the charge questions will be provided to EPA and comments on the BBDR model and report will be submitted to the docket. We respectfully request comments on the charge as soon as possible after the meeting -- October 27 would be ideal to allow ample time for peer reviewers consideration.

Sincerely,

Subject: RE: Perchlorate Peer Review Advance Materials

Hi Lisa,

Thanks. Also -- I wanted to confirm that if interagency scientists submit comments on the peer review charge after our October 20 call, that those would be discussed on a meeting on November 7/8 as you've proposed, prior to finalization of the peer review charge questions? That would give EPA a little more than 2 weeks to consider interagency comments. So our goal will be for interagency scientists to provide comments on the peer review charge shortly after the October 20 call, and then have a discussion on November 7/8. Also -- I wanted to confirm that our comments on the peer review charge would be submitted to you, while comments on the BBDR draft report and model will be submitted to the docket.

I am thinking that a 3rd meeting prior to the end of November would be useful to discuss interagency comments on the BBDR draft report and model, prior to submission of EPA's summary of public comments to the peer review panel.

Please let me know your thoughts.

Best regards,
Jim

Hi Jim

Of course. I held the time on EPA participants calendars, so I'll send confirmation. I'll set up logistics and send you the information soon.

Hi Lisa,

Thanks for the info. Sorry for the late response. Can we go ahead and schedule a meeting for October 20? Thanks for your patience.

Best regards,
Jim

Jim

The closing date for public comments on the charge questions is October 21. The public comment period for the model and report ends November 14. We intend to have our contractor identify the peer reviewers and we'll finalize charge questions between October 21 and November 14. [potential call dates are Oct 20 & 27]

Public comments will be summarized and provided to the peer reviewers at the end of November around the same time we publish the next federal register notice announcing a meeting date sometime in early January (based on availability of peer reviewers and at least 30 days before the panel meeting). [potential call dates are Nov 7 & 8]

Hi Lisa,

Thanks for the dates and times. I was hoping to get something on our calendars earlier to ensure that our feedback on the peer review charge questions is considered. Can you tell me the timeline that is planned in regards to the peer review (e.g. deadline date for peer review charge revisions, dates of peer review meeting)?

Thanks,
Jim

Jim,
I'd like to suggest we schedule two meetings and see if an additional meeting, as suggested, is needed. I looked at calendars for relevant EPA folks and can offer the following dates/times.
1st meeting: October 20 from 4-5pm OR October 27 from 405pm
2nd meeting: November 7 from 11-11am OR November 8 from 11a-noon

I am unable to find availability sooner than Oct 20. However, that provides time for review of materials before discussions begin.

Please let me know at your earliest convenience which times work and I will set up a conference call.

Lisa,

Thank you for the peer review materials, and for the informative briefing yesterday. We will distribute to the other interagency scientists that were on the call yesterday, and provide input on the charge questions within the 21 days that agreed on.

I would also like to get 3 interagency meetings on our calendars during the public comment and peer review process to continue the dialogue from yesterday. The first would be in the next week or so to discuss interagency feedback on the charge questions, the second would be to discuss interagency comments on the BBDR model, and the third would cover any final issues.

Can we start looking at dates/times for the end of next week?

Best regards,
Jim

Vlad, Jim and Margo, Attached are the perchlorate peer review materials we discussed yesterday. Please let me know if you have questions or need additional information.

Thank you,
Lisa
